The Third Industrial Revolution
Jeremy Rifkin 2011-10-04

The Third Industrial Revolution - Jeremy Rifkin 2011-10-04

The Industrial Revolution, powered by oil and other fossil fuels, is spiraling into a dangerous endgame. The price of gas and food are soaring, unemployment remains high, the housing market has tanked, consumer and government debt is soaring, and the recovery is slowing. Facing the prospect of a second collapse of the global economy, humanity is desperate for a sustainable economic game plan to take us into the future. Here, Jeremy Rifkin explores how Internet technology and renewable energy are merging to create a powerful "Third Industrial Revolution." He asks us to imagine hundreds of millions of people producing their own green energy in their homes, offices, and factories, and sharing it with each other in an "energy internet," just like we now create and share information online. Rifkin describes how the Internet's power to connect people could be harnessed to connect them to a new energy system. "The Third Industrial Revolution" will create hundreds of businesses, new industries, and industries, and affect a fundamental restructuring of human relationships, from hierarchical to lateral power, that will impact the way we conduct commerce, govern society, educate our children, and engage in civic life. Rifkin's vision is already gaining traction in the international community. The European Union Parliament has issued a formal declaration calling for its implementation, and other nations in Asia, Africa, and the Americas, are quickly preparing their own initiatives for transitioning into the new economic paradigm. The Third Industrial Revolution is an insider's account of the next great economic era, including a look into the personalities and players - heads of state, global CEOs, social entrepreneurs, and NGOs - who are pioneering its implementation around the world.

Economic Development in Africa Report 2019
United Nations Conference on Trade and Development (UNCTAD) 2019-06-26

The African Continental Free Trade Area (AfCFTA) represents a historic opportunity for the continent to boost intra-African trade and accelerate economic transformation. However, key issues remain to be resolved, including the effective implementation of preferential trade liberalization among the AfCFTA members. Whether in practice African firms will utilize trade preferences under the AfCFTA Agreement as an effective policy instrument to foster economic development will be determined by its implementation. This report argues for the adoption of Basel II and a strengthening of institutional capacities to ensure an effective implementation.
